Global Rapid Deployment Medical and Rescue Services
Specialising in Complex and High Risk Missions
Rapid Response, Rapid Recovery Services
RMSI is an international rapid deployment medical and rescue service, specialising in complex and high-risk missions. Through our highly qualified, experienced team and state-of-the-art facilities and equipment, RMSI Rapid Deployment Medical & Rescue provides round-the-clock medical and emergency response services. Primarily operating in unstable war or conflict affected territories and areas of extreme natural or man-made hazards, our mission: to safeguard the health of your most valuable assets, your people.

There are 4 key elements to our team: A cutting-edge 24/7 Operations Support Centre strategically located in Dubai, which coordinates all operations and is staffed by a specialist team of aviation and medical professionals. Central Operations, managing permanent projects, such as field hospitals and Primary Emergency Retrieval services to ensure optimum capability and performance. Medevac, a safe, secure and fully-equipped fleet of aircraft which provides fast patient transfer. This includes both tactical rotary and fixed-wing operations, as well as international jet air ambulance services. And our Special Missions Unit (SMU), deployed for small team, high-risk missions such as political evacuations, natural or manmade disaster response, and discreet operations.

Mission Coordination and Medical Supervision
Cutting-Edge Operations Support Centre

The nerve centre at the heart of RMSI Rapid Deployment Medical & Rescue operations worldwide, this state-of-the-art facility is operational 24/7/365. Our highly skilled specialist team is fully equipped to handle any situation that arises, plus direct and oversee the smallest detail in every mission.

Utilising the most sophisticated technology, our experienced staff track the movements and exact location of every RMSI team member, vehicle and aircraft anywhere on the planet – in real time. In addition, they maintain situational awareness of any emerging crisis whether it is a natural disaster or manmade incident.

Rapidly Deployable Medical Support Capabilities to a Multitude of Environments
RMSI currently operates a number of Role 1 clinics and Role 2 field surgical hospitals for government, inter-government organisations and corporations. The nature of current peacekeeping missions dictates the need for rapidly deployable medical support capabilities to a multitude of environments, and often within high risk or hostile locations.

In support of such missions, a full surgical level team is also on standby. Emergency Medical Services or ‘Crash Crew Services’ for military bases are a core competency of RMSI.

Road ambulance services in support of embassies and organisations operating in austere locations have been part of the RMSI remit for almost a decade, leading to exceptional real world experience in war torn environments.

“Swiftly deploys medical experts anywhere on the planet”
Dedicated Fleet of MEDEVAC Aircraft
Our dedicated fleet of medevac aircraft provides round-the-clock support to both civilian and military personnel. Deployed with Intensive Care medical staff and equipment, they can be dispatched within minutes and safely transport patients to the nearest appropriate medical facility.

RMSI specialises in rotary medevac services in support of civilian, government and inter-government entities across a number of challenging countries. Fully integrated services ensure every phase of the patient’s journey is monitored and managed via the 24-hour Operations Support Centre.

“Round-the-clock support for both civilian and military personnel”
Complex, High Risk and Discreet Medical Missions
An elite medical team used specifically for complex, high risk or discreet medical missions, the Special Missions Unit (SMU) has exceptional training and experience in all geographical/climatic conditions, and hostile settings.

Capable of deployment on immediate notice to move, this specialist unit is well equipped to handle any mission context, from single medic support to media, governments or corporations entering high risk areas, through to surgical level response to natural or manmade disasters.

“Highly trained and capable of deployment at short notice”
